

To make new research readily available to subscribers, Diabetes Care posts articles online ahead of print weeks before the print/online issue becomes available. These articles will be copyedited and typeset but not yet author-approved or finalized and will appear in a future issue of Diabetes Care.

If you are interested in reporting on a Diabetes Care publish-ahead-of-print (PAP) article, we ask that you please observe three conditions:

If you are interested in commenting on one of these articles, the editors ask that you wait until the final version has appeared in print before submitting your commentary or letter to the editor.

If you are interested in reporting on a Diabetes Care online-ahead-of-print article, we ask that you observe three conditions:

- Please specify in your news release that you are reporting on a pre-print version of a study that is scheduled to be published in the [name of month] issue of Diabetes Care. The table below explains when the final print version is scheduled to be published in Diabetes Care.
- Also, please state in your news item that the pre-print version is currently available online at <http://diabetes.org/diabetescare>.
- Lastly, please notify Colleen Fogarty (cfogarty@diabetes.org) if you plan to release a news item on a Diabetes Care article.

An article is scheduled* to appear in this issue....	...if it is accepted between these dates.
January	September 19 and October 20
February	October 24 and November 30
March	December 1 and January 3
April	January 4 and February 1
May	February 2 and March 2
June	March 3 and March 31
July	April 1 and April 27
August	April 28 and May 31
September	June 1 and June 28
October	June 29 and July 28
November	July 29 and August 25
December	August 26 and September 27

*An article's publication date is subject to change at any time.

Thank you for your interest in Diabetes Care.